At Informa, our brands and businesses undertake marketing and advertising to keep us connected with customers.

We also provide marketing services to businesses – advertisers, marketers and sponsors – who are seeking to reach and engage with specialist audiences and communities around the world.

Whether advertising is on our own behalf or part of a service to customers, we strive to ensure that all our marketing communications are legal, decent, honest and truthful and that they have consideration for their target audience.

Wherever we operate, we comply with all relevant laws and regulations for advertising and sponsorship, and adhere to the principles of the International Chamber of Commerce’s Code of Advertising and Marketing.
Introduction

This policy provides guidance on the fundamental principles and standards that Informa applies to the advertising and marketing activities the company undertakes, and those it provides to customers.

The standards apply to all colleagues at Informa, with particular relevance to those in sales, marketing and sponsorship roles, and any business or business partner engaged in sponsorship or advertising activities with an Informa business.

Our principles

Wherever Informa operates, we comply with all relevant laws and regulations around advertising and sponsorship. We also adhere to the principles laid out in the International Chamber of Commerce’s Advertising and Marketing Communications Code. The Code prescribes that all marketing communications should be legal, decent, honest and truthful.

Informa reserves the right to reject any advertising or sponsored material, and to suspend, take down or request the suspension or termination of any advertising or sponsorship campaign, where we reasonably determine that there has been a violation of our standards or where the content is otherwise inappropriate.

1. Providing original content

As a committed provider of original content, Informa does not undertake or accept advertising content infringing the intellectual property rights, rights in confidential information, rights of privacy or any other rights of any third party. We expect the sponsors and advertisers we work with to obtain and pay for all necessary licenses.

2. Valuing diversity and inclusion

Informa values difference and diversity and will not undertake or feature any advertising that misrepresents or ridicules on the basis of age, colour, ethnic origin, race, religion or belief, gender, sexual orientation, disability or any other protected characteristic. The Group does not allow content that is disrespectful of human life, likely to disgust or to promote hatred, violence, harassment or political intolerance in any form.

3. Consideration for vulnerable groups and children

Informa avoids advertising and sponsorship messaging that could take advantage of the inexperience of vulnerable groups and children or cause them any distress, e.g. by misrepresenting, distorting, exaggerating or over-glamourising product attributes or functions.
4. Championing integrity

The integrity of the way Informa conducts business is paramount and this must be reflected in our content.

We endeavour to ensure any accepted advertising or sponsored content is clearly identifiable and labelled as such. It must never be disguised as editorial content. We will not tolerate unsubstantiated, inaccurate or misleading claims or language and we abstain from publishing or enabling the publication of content that seeks to misinform our customers about the work or products offered by our competitors.

5. Advocating privacy

At Informa, we take matters of data privacy and the relationship with our customers seriously. We strive to respect customer privacy by processing all customer data in an appropriate manner. This includes collecting the relevant marketing permissions from customers based on applicable law and seeking the permission or consent of individuals named in any content prior to publication.

6. Good taste and decency

Informa is an international Group, operating in many countries around the world. The marketing we undertake and the marketing services we provide must always reflect generally accepted contemporary standards of good taste and decency and avoid themes that may seem harmless in one geography but could cause grave offence in another country or culture.

Proposed marketing activities are evaluated from the perspective of the target audience as well as from the perspective of the broader society, locally and globally.

Who to contact

Colleagues with questions around their responsibilities under this Policy, or around action to be taken in a specific situation, should first approach their line manager, and then the Head of Corporate Communications if necessary.

Louise Riordan
Head of Corporate Communications
Informa PLC
5 Howick Place
London SW1 1GW
UK

Louise.Riordan@informa.com

+44 (0)20 8052 0435
We want to know about any issues in our business, so we can take steps to make them right.

If you see any action or behaviour that is unethical, dangerous or inappropriate, we’re here to listen.

It could be a potential conflict of interest, a case of harassment, suspected fraud or something else. If you are genuinely concerned, or even if you are unsure and just want to check, you can feel confident speaking up at Informa.

Speaking to colleagues

If you feel comfortable doing so, speak to:

- Your senior leader or manager, or
- HR, or
- Group Compliance

Using our Speak Up service

Hosted by an external third party:

- The service is available 24/7 in multiple languages
- Go to informa.com/speak-up for your regional phone number

Zero Retaliation

We do not tolerate retaliation in any form against anyone who raises a genuine concern.
Policy Governance

Policy Owner: Group Corporate Communications

Applicable: This policy is applicable to all colleagues involved in marketing and promoting our products, or accepting third party sponsorship or advertising within our products

Classification: Internal Policy

Last updated: December 2022